

CONTENTS

Chapter	Page
Introduction	xxi
A Note About... ..	xxv
Translator's Note	xxix
Author's Preface	xxxiii
1 The Battle of Britain 1940	1
2 The Fighter Pilot	14
3 31st August: The First Battle	21
4 2nd September: Comradeship	32
5 When the Ammunition Ran Out... ..	41
6 5th–6th September: You Win Some, You Lose Some ..	49
7 7th September: A Tasty Morsel—Dorniers	64
8 Pain	77
9 A Smile Through the Blood	84
10 The Cloud	93
11 11th September: The Greatest Victory	100
12 The Enemy's Dance of Death	113
13 A Brave Czech	119
14 The Colourless Roots of Brilliant Flowers	128
15 A Fearless, Flawless Airman	141
16 The Myth of the Messerschmitt 110	152
17 Tricks	164
18 15th September: Fate in the Balance	172
19 15th September: Fate Decided	183
20 'We Are Beginning to Understand the Poles'	191

CONTENTS

HISTORICAL HORIZON

	Page
The Road to Britain for the Polish Air Force: A Brief Overview	203

APPENDICES

1 Glossary of English, Polish, German and French Terms and Acronyms	221
2 Polish Air Force Ranks and their Royal Air Force Equivalents During World War II	227
3 303 Squadron Personnel in the Battle of Britain	231
4 Pilot Biographies	237
Tadeusz Andruszków	239
Michał Brzezowski	241
Arsen Cebrzyński	243
Jan Daszewski	245
Mirosław Ferić	247
Athol Forbes	249
Josef František	251
Zdzisław Henneberg	254
Stanisław Karubin	257
Ronald Kellett	259
John Kent	261
Zdzisław Krasnodębski	264
Witold Łokuciewski	266
Ludwik Paszkiewicz	269
Marian Pisarek	271
Eugeniusz Szaposznikow	274
Witold Urbanowicz	276
Stefan Wójtowicz	280
Kazimierz Wünsche	282
Jan Zumbach	285

CONTENTS

Appendices continued:

	Page
5 303 Squadron Claimed Victories During the Battle of Britain	289
6 Brothers In Arms: The 303 Squadron Badge and the Original Kościuszko Squadron	297
7 The Song of 303 Squadron	313
8 Against All Odds: The Creation of the Polish Air Force Colour	319
9 Operational Units of the Polish Air Force in Great Britain during World War II	327