

“If there is going to be a war, I do not want to miss it.”

— Julian Kulski, age 10

So writes Julian Kulski a few days before the outbreak of World War II, in this remarkable diary of a boy at war from ages 10 to 16. As the war unfolds through his eyes, we are privileged to meet a rare soul of indomitable will, courage and compassion.

THE COLOR OF COURAGE A Boy at War: The World War II Diary of Julian Kulski

by Julian Kulski

Kulski, the son of the Deputy Mayor of Warsaw, is a 10-year-old Boy Scout when the Germans invade Poland in September 1939. He soon begins waging his own private war against the Germans with small acts of sabotage. At age 12, Kulski is recruited into the clandestine Underground Army by his scoutmaster and begins training in military tactics and weapons handling. At 13, he accompanies his commander on a secret mission into the Warsaw Ghetto to liaise with the Jewish leadership.

“I can’t say
I really want to die,
but I can see now
that there are times when one has to be prepared to do just that.”

— Julian Kulski, age 12

Arrested by the Gestapo at age 14, Kulski is incarcerated in the notorious Pawiak Prison, beaten, interrogated at Gestapo headquarters, and sentenced to Auschwitz. After being rescued, he joins the Ninth Commando Company of the Underground Army, and at age 15 fights in the Warsaw Uprising. Taken prisoner by the Germans, 16-year-old Kulski ends the war in a POW camp, finally risking a dash for freedom onto an American truck instead of waiting for “liberation” by the Soviets.

Foreword by Lech Wałęsa, Nobel Peace Prize Laureate Introduction by Rabbi Michael Schudrich, Chief Rabbi of Poland

Nonfiction • History • World War II
ISBN 978-1-60772-015-7 (Hardcover, $29.95) • ISBN 978-1-60772-016-4 (Trade Paperback, $19.95) 496 pages 6" x 9" More than 150 photos, maps and illustrations, plus 11 groundbreaking Digital Extras, contextualizing historical material, Discussion Questions and Index.

AQUILA POLONICA
PUBLISHING

“Written from the heart and by the hand of an adolescent boy.
Unique and moving insights.”

— Lech Wałęsa, Nobel Peace Prize Laureate

“Compelling, readable, and very moving!”

— Dr. Zbigniew Brzezinski, Center for Strategic & International Studies

“Poignant, haunting, gritty, and bursting with realism... brings a deeply moving and unique perspective to World War II.”

— Foreword Reviews

AUTHOR BIO

THE COLOR OF COURAGE A Boy at War: The World War II Diary of Julian Kulski

Julian E. Kulski, born in 1929 in Warsaw, Poland, is descended from a 19th century Chief Rabbi of Warsaw, Dov Beer Meisels, and an 18th century King of Poland, Stanisław Leszczyński.

After the war, Kulski studied architecture in England and the U.S., receiving his B.Arch. in 1953 and M.Arch. in 1955 from Yale University, and a Ph.D. in Urban Planning in 1966 from the Warsaw Institute of Technology. He is a Fellow of the American Institute of Architects (FAIA) (an honor bestowed upon less than 2 percent of American architects) and a member of the American Institute of Certified Planners (AICP).

Now semi-retired from a distinguished architectural career, Kulski led the urban and regional planning programs at Notre Dame University and at George Washington University, and later established the first city planning program at Howard University. For twenty years he served as a consultant to the World Bank, traveling around the world designing buildings in twenty-nine developing countries.

Kulski has authored several books, published more than a hundred articles in professional journals, and produced an award-winning documentary about World War II, titled Legacy of the White Eagle. Kulski is a frequent speaker to audiences ranging in age from junior high school to adult.

A member of the Board of Trustees of the Kościuszko Foundation, Kulski is the recipient of numerous decorations awarded by the Polish government, including the highly prestigious Cross of Valor, the Commander’s Cross with Star of the Order of Merit, Silver Cross of Merit with Swords, the Home Army Cross, the Polish Army Medal (four times), and the Cross of the Warsaw Uprising.

Kulski and his wife live in Washington, D.C.

“Showcases the gallantry of one man...provides clear insights into spiritual and moral strength of an entire nation.”

— General John R. Allen, U.S. Marine Corps (Ret.)
Special Presidential Envoy for the Global Coalition to Counter ISIL

“An inspiring read.”

— Rabbi Michael Schudrich,
Chief Rabbi of Poland

“True-life adventure leaps off the page in this riveting diary.”

— Rita Cosby, Emmy-Winning TV Host and Bestselling Author of Quiet Hero

“At once absorbing, inspiring, and tragic.”

— Publishers Weekly

“Haunting and powerful—unforgettable true story.”

— Susan Eisenhower, President, Eisenhower Group

Watch the Book Trailer
www.polww2.com/CourageTrailer

